'Most wanted' fugitive found working bungee

BY ROB GIBSON
rob.gibson@mk-news.co.uk

A SUSPECTED paedophile wanted by Hungarian police has been found working at a bungee ride in the city centre.

Crimestoppers launched a worldwide hunt for dangerous fugitives this week and released an appeal to find 25-year-old Balazs Asztalos, who was believed to be working in Milton Keynes.

At 8.30am on Sunday, just hours after the appeal, the UK charity received an anonymous tip-off from a caller who said Mr Asztalos was working at the bungee ball in the car park outside the Xscape building.

The ride is open to anyone aged 12 and over who meets the height restrictions.

At 12.30pm police swooped on the ride, half-an-hour before it was due to open, and arrested Mr Asztalos.

The Hungarian, from Szekszard, is wanted on suspicion of sexually abusing a four-year-old child in Tolna, Hungary, in 2007.

Suspected Hungarian paedophile got job on kids' ride at Xscape

He is also suspected of allowing a five-year-old child to witness the alleged assault.

If found guilty by the Hungarian authorities, Mr Asztalos faces a maximum prison sentence of 10 years.

The ride manager, Stanley Reeves, from Manchester company S&D Leisure, said: "It's come as a shock to me. The guy started working for me about a week ago.

"As far as I know he's worked in a fairground up north for a while.

"He got my number and I said we would give him a try for a week.

"We hadn't had the chance to go through his paperwork, we just take on casual staff."

Detectives first suspected that Mr Asztalos was working at a fun fair 'close to Milton Keynes' in 2008.

A spokesman for the Metropolitan Police said: "We received a European arrest warrant request in November 2008 relating to a Hungarian national.

"The relevant checks took place but the individual was not traced at this time."

Sunday's arrest is the first result for the International Fugitive Round Up and Arrest operation (Infra). Working with the Serious Organised Crime Agency and the Met, Crimestoppers appealed for information on 17 fugitives including violent offenders, sex offenders and gang members from Poland, Georgia, Albania and Hungary.

A statement warned people not to approach the suspects.

Lord Ashcroft, founder and chairman of Crimestoppers, said: "When you look at the criminals that are on the most wanted list they are truly heinous people and they need to be caught.

"Reporting the whereabouts of fugitives makes a difference in fighting crime which undermines democracy and the safety within our communities."

Stab wounds put teens in hospital

BY ROB GIBSON
rob.gibson@mk-news.co.uk

TWO teenagers had to be rushed to hospital with stab wounds on Saturday night.

The incident occurred at about 8.50pm in the Grove, Green Park, at Newport Pagnell.

A 19-year-old and a 17-year-old boy were taken to hospital with knife wounds but their injuries are not thought to be life threatening.

Detective Chief Inspector, Simon Roberts said: "Thankfully incidents involving knives are extremely rare in Milton Keynes but we have increased patrols in the area to offer reassurance to local residents.

"We are still at the very early stages of the investigation and have many witnesses to speak to before we can get a clear picture of what has happened. Although weapons were involved, the injuries are not life threatening.

"We take incidents like this very seriously and a full investigation is under way."

Anyone with information can contact police on 08458 505505 or Crimestoppers, anonymously, on 0800 555111.

■ Following the incident police in the area arrested two 19-year-old men from Bradville on suspicion of possessing offensive weapons, namely metal bars.

Both men have been released on conditional bail while the investigation continues.

Bookie-bashing cancer sufferer hoping for third-time-lucky bet

A WIDOWER with terminal cancer has struck lucky, by cashing in on his survival for a second time.

On Monday, Jon Matthews, 59, collected £5,000 after betting £100 at 50/1 odds that he would defy his doctor's bleak prognosis.

Mr Matthews, from Woburn Sands, was diagnosed in 2006, but went to the William Hill bookies in Bletchley, adamant he would live to see June 2008.

After far exceeding the 25 months survival expected for sufferers of mesothelioma, a cancer linked to asbestos, he placed a further bet on making it to June 1, 2009. If he lives to see next year, after placing a third wager at odds of 100/1, he stands to pick up £10,000.

Benefiting from his winnings are animal charity Hula and Macmillan Nurses.

Mr Matthews, who cares for his parents, both in their 80s, said: "Anyone who gets a diagnosis from the medical profession must take it with a pinch of salt. For thousands of years we survived with natural healers.

"I went to a natural healer after my diagnosis. Now I feel like there's nothing wrong with me."

He added: "I was 99.9 per cent sure I would make it to this week to collect my winnings. And I'm 99.9 per cent sure I'll be collecting them again in 2010."

The 9.21 leaving MK Central for Euston will have more seats

COMMUTERS should be able to find a seat on a train service which is usually standing room only.

From June 15 the crowded 9.21 train from Milton Keynes Central to London Euston will now have eight carriages instead of four.

It follows a meeting between Brian Binley, MP for Northampton, where the service begins, and London Midland's managing director Stephen Banaghan.

A spokesman for the train operator said the MP approached them several months ago, and after analysis of passenger numbers they conceded there was an issue.

Mr Banaghan said: "The doubling of seats on this service represents another step forward in improving services for our passengers who commute into London.

"It also illustrates our willingness to listen to, and act on, the views of our passengers and stakeholders."

Residents fight to save village green

BY ROB GIBSON
rob.gibson@mk-news.co.uk

A GROUP of residents is protesting against plans to build seven new homes on their village green.

While some in Oxley Park have been stirred into action over bus services, others are fighting to save an area of open space which is popular among children.

Milton Keynes Council granted permission for Charles Church Homes to build around 500 homes on the new estate in 2003 but an application has been made for seven more.

However some residents reject the council's claims that they were consulted on the extra homes and 80 people attended a protest meeting on the green.

Abbey Vallance, from Harlow Crescent, said: "We were promised that this land would be left for a play area and a pond when we first bought our houses but now they want to build seven houses on there. We are totally against it."

Deena Ronnie, who lives opposite the green, said: "I bought my house two years ago and in the Charles Church Homes office they showed me the plans and assured me that this area was POS, public open space.

"Now instead of making it a nice area for the residents, they've decided to put seven houses here.

"I never got a letter telling me that they wanted to build on this area.

"Our children will have nowhere to play, there's no other public open space."

A spokesman for Charles Church Midlands said: "We can confirm that we have submitted a planning application for a further seven homes.

"This application does include areas of public open space and a play area and is fully in line with our outline planning permission and requirements under the section 106 agreement."

Milton Keynes Council said it consulted residents by letter and issued site notices in April.

A council spokesman said: "We are happy to make clear the application which is currently being considered also includes a play area and open space including the retention of the existing pond."

Two separate planning applications have been made to replace a crumbling grade two listed farmhouse on the green, which could take the new homes application up to eight.

Landlord doc changed locks in attempt to force out tenants

A GP who changed the locks on a premise he owned to try and get rid of tenants during this year's cold snap has been left more than £2,000 out of pocket.

Milton Keynes Magistrates heard how Dr Anthony Ojo, of Clegg Square, Shenley Lodge, changed the locks in February this year, in a bid to evict tenants from his HIMO (House in Multiple Occupation) in Larwood Place, Oldbrook.

On Friday the court heard how the tenants complained to housing staff, who, on further investigation, found the HIMO was actually unlicensed.

HIMOS need a licence if they have three storeys used as housing accommodation, for five or more people, forming two or more households

Ojo admitted failing to ensure that a HIMO was properly licensed, for which he was fined £1,000.

And acts calculated to interfere with the peace and comfort of the residential occupier, namely the removal and changing of the locks on the front door of the premises, with intent to cause the residential occupier to give up occupation, for which he was fined £200.

Magistrates said that the fines would have been more but for Dr Ojo's early guilty plea – but they also ordered him to pay the council's costs, of £1,196.24.

Andrea Vincent, MKC's senior homelessness officer, said: "We were first alerted to this case when approached by the tenants, who complained of their landlord changing the locks, and various other forms of harassment.

"This is a criminal offence and bad enough on its own, but we also then discovered that this landlord, a GP, was operating this HIMO without a licence."

City MPs given The Telegraph treatment

THE Daily Telegraph has homed in on the expenses of the city's MPs.

On Monday – day 25 of the broadsheet's revelations about MPs' claims – Mark Lancaster and Phyllis Starkey were profiled.

As MK NEWS revealed a fortnight ago, Mr Lancaster, MP for North East Milton Keynes, claimed monthly mortgage interest for around £1,100 for his Olney home, two years later claiming for renting a flat in London.

Meanwhile it claims that Dr Starkey, member for the south west of the city, receives rental income from a house she owns in Oxford while claiming the rent and utilities of her second home in Milton Keynes.

Both MPs, who get paid £64,766, have said they want to see the expenses system cleaned up.

MK LETTERS

Letters to The Editor, MK NEWS, 1 Diamond Court, Fox Milne, Milton Keynes MK15 0DU | letters@mk-news.co.uk

Pensioner power

SIR – This week two thousand pensioners will assemble for the Pensioners Parliament in Blackpool for the seventeenth year.

Pensioners across the UK will be demanding that the Government addresses pensioner poverty, that it raises the standard of social care and takes into account that there are 11 million pensioners in Britain all voters who will, come the general election, judge Members of Parliament on their response to our demands.

Dennis Brett
Milton Keynes Pensioners' Association.
Minton Close, Blakelands

Shh – Tory in library

SIR – Desperate to divert our attention from some of his MPs' more creative expenses claims – moat cleaning, duck islands and bags of horse manure – David Cameron has come to the Open University to promise that he will give 'power to the people' (MK NEWS last week).

The Tory Party leader, sounding more like Wolfie Smith, leader of the Tooting Popular Front, in the BBC sit com, outlined a number of vague intentions without actually saying how he would implement such a policy.

It would seem that the Tory leader's main impact on the Open University was to prevent OU staff from working in the library while he was there.

Let us hope that, like Wolfie Smith, Mr Cameron does not have the opportunity to gain any sort of power, as his plans for public spending cuts, with their associated job cuts, would ensure that many thousands of people in Milton Keynes and beyond would be prevented from working for a very long time.

Dave Brunwin
Walton Park

Lesson from Oz

SIR – I hope that no one has been hurt skateboarding but before anyone is, wouldn't it be wise to spend some money on crash helmets?

Normal cyclists in Australia must wear crash helmets surely this should be a must here at the speed the skateboarders fly.

Name and address supplied

Reasons to care

SIR – How sad that Mr Friedman should seek to diminish a good cause by telling us that there are even better ones (MK NEWS letters, May 20)

He seems to think that we should grade the importance of our concerns and only protest about the very worst.

I doubt if the people writing to your paper this week would agree.

They are rightly drawing attention to matters such as the consequences of building a large Tesco in Newport Pagnell, the loss of free parking in the city centre, or the routing of a bus through OxleyPark, but I doubt if any of them would say these were the most important things in the world.

They protest because they believe that there is something wrong, they feel they are in a position to throw light on the issues, and they hope that by doing so they may help effect some change.

Similarly, those of us who went from Milton Keynes to protest about the continuing siege of Gaza went because we have particular reasons to care.

Some of us have actually visited the conflict zones and all of us have become so aware of the huge injustices meted out to the Palestinian people and the dreadful conditions in which they are forced to live that we felt compelled to leave our gardens and allotments and our many other interests (so much for our apparent 'obsession' with this issue) and spend several hours on the streets of London.

Furthermore we were not singling out Israel for our protest.

The Egyptian government appears to have equal enthusiasm for preventing food, building materials and other aid getting through, and the entire international community does nothing but mouth empty words and employ the expensive and totally unproductive Tony Blair to act as Middle East envoy.

Georgina Baidoun
Pastern Place, Downs Barn

Collection of household waste a load of rubbish

SIR – I am amazed, having recently moved to 'modern' Milton Keynes, that we can still be in the dark ages when it comes to rubbish and hygiene.

I cannot believe that anyone enjoys encouraging rats and other vermin, something I know MK had a big problem not that long ago.

Why on earth have we not got black wheelie bins for household rubbish like a lot of the other councils?

Everyone I have spoken to both within my community of Great Holm and other areas of MK all agree?

When I asked the council about this issue they told me that they did a survey and no one wanted to have wheelie bins.

Who did they survey, themselves and their bank account?

I would not even mind buying a black bin similar to the scheme for the green bins if that is what it takes.

I would be interested to hear what the rest of the residents of Milton Keynes think to this?

Richard Lines
Great Holm

Anger at lack of IVF

SIR – Regarding 'City couples may have to move to get IVF chance'.

I am disgusted with this policy for Milton Keynes.

My sister-in-law is going through what I'm doing and is getting three free goes in Hertfordshire.

I can't afford to move and why should we?

I have had one private go and it hasn't worked so we have to pay again. I know it will be worth it but it's not fair when 20 minutes down the road they get it for free.

It makes me so angry.

Hannah Conn

Flu buddy? – not me!

SIR – I read the article in the paper about the city man contracting swine flu.

I feel very sorry for the person who is incontact with this swine flu but you have stated in this artical 'We are encouraging vulnerable people in the community to have a flu buddy, who they can rely on to fetch things for them if they are ill'.

If one of my friends or relatives had caught this swine flu and they asked me to be a flu buddy I would have to decline.

I could be passing this swine flu on to other people as it is meant to be catchable and I have read in recent articles that anyone who thinks or has swine flu should stay indoors.

If I was a flu buddy I could be passing this swine flu on to other vulnerable people.

Please could you think befor writing your articals.?

Underwood Place, Oldbrook

Cycling success

SIR – I think Milton Keynes should pat itself on the back again following the success of the recent Tour Series cycle race.

As a keen cyclist myself and a regular redway user I was delighted to see the city getting behind such an event.

Thankfully the rain stayed away and it meant that the public had a fantastic chance to see some top athletes in action in the unique setting of our city.

The fact that it was televised too always helps promote Milton Keynes in a positive light.

Well done MK keep it up.

Alex flicks board into record books

Skateboard wizard on TV after talent spotter sees his tricks on YouTube

BY ROB GIBSON

Alex deCunha takes to the air during a no-comply flick trick

A SCHOOLBOY is heading for stardom after setting a new world record on his skateboard.

Pint-sized Alex deCunha, aged 12, was challenged to break into the record books after talent spotters saw a video of his skateboarding tricks on YouTube and tracked him down.

The Radcliffe School student was filmed in front of a live audience for the Sky One show, Guinness World Records Smashed, which invites members of the public and celebrities to make world record attempts.

Alex's signature trick, called the 'no-comply flick', is notoriously difficult and readers will have to tune in at 8pm on Sunday, June 7, to see how many he managed to perform within a minute.

"Some skaters find it pretty difficult and confusing," Alex said.

"A no-comply flick is where you take your front foot off the board, you flick it up into your hand with your back foot, you hit it so it flips and then you land on it.

"I like learning new tricks, it's great."

The youngster practices his skills with his friends at Newport Pagnell skate park and he is sponsored by Bucks Boarding Centre, in Oldbrook.

Professional boarders could now be inspired by Alex's benchmark performance and attempt it themselves.

Alex's dad, Paul deCunha, 41, from Haversham, said: "It's his signature move but it's really hard.

"A lot of people can't even do one and some of his friends who tried could only do three in a minute."

The Empire strikes back

CLUBBERS will soon be celebrating the relaunch of Milton Keynes' most celebrated 90s nightspot.

MK NEWS can exclusively reveal that the city's historic Empire nightclub, formerly the Golden Flamingo, will reopen this summer under new management.

The news could cause flashbacks to £10 'all you can drink' nights, garage tunes and jelly wrestling, but new-look plans for the empty Leisure Plaza venue will bring the club up-to-date.

The city centre lease has been bought by a company from the Far East called Mya Mya, who run the Spice Lounge, and will be co-owned by an anonymous international music personality.

They hope to open the club at the end of July and are asking residents to help rename it.

Plans include a VIP area with Amsterdam-style relaxation beds, four main bars, dancefloor podiums and an indoor pool.

There will also be a private ladies-only area and a men's area showing televised sports.

A spokesman for the management company said: "We're bringing individual elements from the best clubs in the world to transform the Leisure Plaza site into a desirable late night venue that people will travel to see."

Smaller details include hair straighteners in the ladies', mobile phone charging areas and a pay-by-thumbprint service.

The music will range from commercial RnB to funky house.

Nostalgic fans of the old club, which closed in 2005 after complaints about noise, have formed online Facebook groups to remember nights there.

Send your suggestions for the new nightclub name to newmkclub@hotmail.com.

Management is offering the winning entry a trip for two to New York.

Trapped in Tesco

A HEALTH and safety investigation has been launched after a man was trapped under a cage at a warehouse.

Emergency services were called to the incident at the Tesco Distribution Centre, in Fenny Lock just before 5pm on Friday.

A spokesman for the fire service said two crews attended and released the man, who was injured.

The Health and Safety Executive confirmed that an investigation has been launched.

Tesco declined to comment.

A new novel by local author Ian C Thomas
A commercial pilot, an air stewardess and a Diamond dealer form a menage-a-trois with an insidious drug habit in common. When the pilot is persuaded by a sinister West African diamond baron to smuggle uncut stones into London to avoid a UN embargo, they form an unlikely alliance to steal the gems and escape the financial noose that is closing around them. Does life imitate art? MK Theatre is searching for a real life family of seven brothers to invite them to the opening night of Seven Brides For Seven Brothers

Are you one of seven brothers?

WAS dinner always a bit of a squeeze around the table, your dad was the manager of a home-grown seven-a-side football team and whenever you slipped on a pair of pants you could never be sure they were yours and yours alone?

If this sounds familiar then chances are you are the real-life Seven Brothers that Milton Keynes Theatre is looking for!

If you come from a larger-than-life family and can boast seven brothers in your brood, Milton Keynes Theatre would like to meet you.

To celebrate the arrival of the perfect feel-good family show, Seven Brides For Seven Brothers, Milton Keynes Theatre is searching high and low for a real life family of seven brothers.

In a quest to find if life imitates art, the theatre would like to invite you and your brothers to the opening night as guests, to compare family life in the show to your own memories of growing up.

If you are one of seven brothers or know someone who is contact david.gale@mk-news.co.uk

The show, starring Steven Houghton (Bugs, London's Burning) and Susan McFadden is the story of Adam, the eldest of seven brothers, who goes into town to get himself a wife. He convinces Milly to marry him that same day and they return to his backwoods home. Only then does she discover he has six brothers, all living in his cabin, who are anxious to get wives of their own.

Full of handclapping effervescent energy, dazzling dancing and smash-hit show-stoppers by Johnny Mercer and Gene de Paul including Bless Your Beautiful Hide, Goin' Courtin' and Wonderful Wonderful Day, this breathtaking production is guaranteed to put a spring in your step and a tune on your lips.

Press welcome at MK Family Court

BY ROB GIBSON
rob.gibson@mk-news.co.uk

Milton Keynes Family Court: Now open to the press

THE doors to Milton Keynes' Family Court have been opened to the press for the first time.

MK NEWS became the first locally to step inside the court since the historic opening up of the courts was taken by Jack Straw, the Justice Secretary, at the beginning of May.

The decision followed pressure from families affected by the courts' decisions and on Wednesday Milton Keynes joined the list of courts around the country to welcome a reporter.

Strict reporting restrictions remain in place to protect the identity of the parties but local authorities and court decisions involving child welfare can now be scrutinised in public.

On Wednesday the court managed to successfully resolve the future of a young boy from Milton Keynes.

A council representative introduced the case, seated alongside two social workers. Opposite them sat the legal advisor and the boy's current guardian, together with her solicitor.

The boy's biological parents sat facing the magistrates, each with their own legal representative.

Finally, at the back of the court sat the proposed guardians who were hoping to be granted care of the boy.

The court had to decide whether to give a special guardianship order in favour of the proposed guardians and whether a supervision order was necessary, as applied for by the existing guardian.

A supervision order allows the council to monitor meetings between the boy and his parents.

After representations from each party the magistrates decided to grant the couple guardianship, congratulating them.

They also agreed with the parents and the carers that a supervision order was unnecessary for the welfare of the child because support was already available from the council's social care team.

Accident victim in care unit cash bid

BY LAURA HANNAM
laura.hannam@mk-news.co.uk

A MAN who suffered serious head injuries when dozens of ovens fell onto him, is holding a football tournament to raise money for the intensive care unit that saved is life.

Louis Andrews, 24, from Crownhill was left fighting for his life in June 2007 when a beam collapsed at a Newport Pagnell kitchen appliance company where he worked in Jenna House in North Crawley Road and 26 ovens, each weighing 41kg, fell onto him.

He was in a coma and spent nearly 15 weeks in intensive care at Milton Keynes Hospital.

Last year he raised £1,200 for the unit by holding a charity gig to say thank you.

Now he hopes to beat that total by putting on a 6-a-side football tournament at Shenley Leisure Centre on Saturday, June 13.

The event will also include a karoke night and disco, a charity auction, raffle and bouncy castle.

Mr Andrews, who believes the ITU staff saved his life sever said: "I'm so grateful for everything they did in intensive care, I want to give something back," he said.

Football teams who want to take part in the event, which starts at 10am, should email Mr Andrews at ITUcharity@hotmail.co.uk or call 07545140793.

Anyone who wishes to donate raffle prizes or items for the charity auction are also asked to get in touch.

Rubbish blocks grid road

A LORRY overturned spilling household waste across a grid road.

The incident happened on Friday at 10am.

The Browns Wood roundabout on the V11, Tongwell Street was blocked for several hours while emergency services cleared the carriageway.

A spokesman for Thames Valley Police said no other vehicles were involved. The driver of the lorry was taken to hospital with suspected minor injuries.

The waste lorry is righted by heavy recovery vehicles. Inset: Household waste strewn across the road

Face of hotel arson suspect

THIS is the face of the man who police suspect of two arsons attacks at a city hotel.

The e-fit was released on Friday as police continue their investigations into the blazes at the city centre's Holiday Inn.

The first fire took place at 1.29am on Saturday, April 11, when hotel staff found a fire in a stationary room on the third floor of the building and raised the alarm.

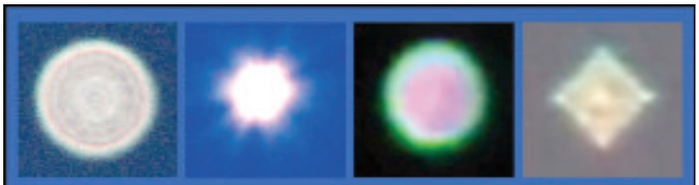
Nine days later, at 3am on Monday, April 20, a fire started in a cupboard in the hotel basement.

On both occasions guests at the 166-bedroom hotel were evacuated and no one was injured but police believe the fires were started deliberately and that they were linked.

DC Adam Billingham said: "Although no one was hurt during these incidents, the fires could easily have got out of control and ended up seriously injuring someone or worse. Luckily the hotel staff acted very quickly in evacuating the guests safely.

"We are extremely keen to hear from anyone who thinks they recognise the man in this e-fit."

Anyone who knows the identity of the man or has any information about the incidents can contact police on 08458 505505 or call Crimestoppers anonymously on 0800 555111.



Bright new star reported worldwide

A bright "star-like luminary" of different colours and shapes, is stimulating debate on YouTube, blogs and newspapers. On 12 December 2008 Share International Foundation announced that a bright 'star' would soon be visible around the world, night and day. For 35 years modern British 'prophet' Benjamin Creme has prepared the way for the emergence of Maitreya, the World Teacher. Creme affirms that the 'star' heralds Maitreya's imminent appearance and first interview on US television.

John Leonard (front right) is joined by members of the adaptive snowsports MK (ASMK) receiving the cheque from the SIA

"I FEEL very free when I'm skiing", says adaptive skier John Leonard, who will be taking to the slopes for the UK's first ski-a-thon in Milton Keynes.

John will be taking part in the 12-hour endurance challenge at the SNO!zone, Xscape on Saturday, June 13 alongside six fellow members of Adaptive Snowsport Milton Keynes (ASMK).

The event, supported by MK NEWS, will raise money for the Spinal Injuries Association (SIA), a national charity based in Oldbrook.

John, who lives in Aylesbury, lost the use of his legs in 1974 aged 22. His lower spine was broken when he fell 60 feet from a ladder while working as a window cleaner in London.

He rebuilt his life by retraining as a watch maker and now works for SIA as an employment adviser, helping other spinal injured people to get back into the workplace.

He first tried adaptive skiing in 1994 with The Back Up Trust, which takes people with spinal injuries skiing abroad.

He said: "It was a fantastic experience... it is such an amazing buzz; the scenery, the ambience, the friends that you make. I didn't do very well but I really was hooked from the beginning."

When the SNO!zone opened in 2000 John joined the newly formed ASMK and bought his own ski bob. Now he is a committee member for the club, which is the UK's largest adaptive snow sports group and meets at the Xscape once a month on a Sunday evening.

He said: "It is incredibly popular; we have up to 300 people on our books from far and wide including Nottingham and London."

"You get that absolute feeling of freedom, something that you don't normally find in a lot of activities. Whether it's the fact you actually get out of your wheel chair and into the ski bob I can't quite make my mind up, but I feel very free when I'm skiing and enjoy it immensely.

"It's very uplifting because you get a great deal of support and genuine adulation from people. Its also an excellent way of keeping fit."

There are many different forms of adaptive skiing, depending on a person's disability.

John is a mono-skier so sits in a bucket seat mounted on a frame with a single ski fixed to the bottom. A shock absorber links the frame to the ski and John holds two adapted crutches with ski tips mounted on the bottom (outriggers) used for balance and turning.

His team of experienced adaptive skiers taking part in the ski-a-thon includes three other mono-skiers and two three track skiers; leg amputees who use one full size ski and stabilise themselves with outriggers.

Members of ASMK will also be providing rides for the general public on their adaptive skiing equipment at the event. The kit was bought using a recent £10,000 grant from the SIA's Rebuilding Lives Through Sport scheme.

John added: "We feel that taking part in the ski-a-thon is a wonderful opportunity to demonstrate the different levels of adaptive skiing and put the word out for other people with disabilities that they can join us as well. We also want to say thank you to SIA as with this extra equipment we can help more people enjoy the sport."

SIA is still calling for teams of two to six people aged over 10 to take part in the ski-a-thon.

One team member has to be on the slope at all times and teams are given the opportunity to switch skiers at hourly intervals. SIA is keen to encourage disabled skiers to join in.

Sonic the Hedgehog will open the event by leading the skiers and snowboarders in the first leg down the indoor slope. For spectators there will be Nintendo Wii competitions, fashion shows, a shop window treasure hunt, taster sessions from the Love Your Body group and live musical performances.

The ski-a-thon team leader that raises the most sponsorship money by June 13 will win a week's stay for two (double bedroom) in a bed and breakfast in January at Haus Kienreich ski resort in Austria.

Every team leader will also be entered into a prize draw for a place on SIA's Reach for the Peaks Ski Challenge, held in Austria on February 4 to 7, 2010. This is a ski hard and play hard long weekend involving skiing or boarding down 35 peaks, in 48 hours.

Golf course sunbather naked but for his socks

A 22-YEAR-OLD man has been sectioned under the Mental Health Act after he was caught sunbathing naked on a golf course.

A group of men were enjoying an early round at Abbey Hill last Sunday morning when they spotted the large man, wearing just his socks, lying on the fairway at the ninth hole, with a dog at his side.

"He was in the middle of the fairway," said general manager, Gordon Forster.

The police were called at 8.30am and officers used a golf buggy to get across the course.

However, when the man refused to move and became aggressive they called back-up and he was arrested.

A spokesman for Thames Valley Police said: "Police arrested a 22-year-old man from the Greenleys area of Milton Keynes on suspicious of indecent exposure and assault on a police officer.

"He was not charged but was taken into care under the Mental Health Act."

New build – new ideas

BY JESSICA CUNNIFFE
jessica.cunniffe@mk-news.co.uk

NEW tactics to kick-start the housing market are being discussed.

The chief executive from Milton Keynes Partnership proposed in his quarterly report, due to be presented to MKP's committee last night, 'alternative' ways of encouraging developers to build houses amid the recession.

John Lewis said that, in one of the country's fastest growing cities, new starts were down 42 per cent in 2008/9 on the previous year, something which will continue.

"Forecasts for housing completions are predicting the lowest number of housing competitions in Milton Keynes in the last 20 years," he adds.

Graham Hyslop, MKP senior regeneration manager, believes that if they do not act, supply will not meet demand.

The council's 2008 Strategic Market Housing Assessment showed 16,400 new homes are needed in the next five years.

Mr Hyslop said: "We are just trying to think of ways to kick-start the market.

"These methods are all variations on a theme. Some of these things were looked at when the Development Corporation was here trying to promote growth in the first place. Now we are just trying to keep growth going."

Proposed measures include allowing developers to buy land in stages, reducing deposits for land and letting them build on land before they pay for it. They are also considering building infrastructure in advance to entice developers.

MKNEWS BRIEFS

New school approved

PLANS to build a new school in West Bletchley have been given the go ahead by the council's planning department.

Proposals to demolish Rickley Junior School and build a two-storey 420-place primary school and 39-place nursery were discussed by Milton Keynes Council's development control committee on Thursday, May 21.

This is part of plans to amalgamate the school with Rivers Infant School.

Both schools will now technically close as individual schools in August this year and a new school will open across the two existing sites in September 2009, until the new building is ready in January 2011.

Vic is pub of the year

A 'VILLAGE pub in the city' has been awarded pub of the year by the Campaign for Real Ale.

Following its success as runner-up last year, The Victoria Inn at Bradwell Village has been voted Milton Keynes and North Bucks CAMRA's Pub of the Year 2009.

A spokesman for CAMRA said: "Small and vibrant, it has a friendly, enthusiastic and faithful local clientele and is deeply engaged in the life of its community in Bradwell.

"It's a pub serving a rotating selection of superb real ales, in tip-top condition, and very competitively priced. Unusually for this area, there's always real cider as well."

Firefighter deadline extended

THE deadline for applying to be an on-call firefighter has been extended.

Since Buckinghamshire Fire and Rescue Service launched its latest recruitment driver for retained duty system (RDS) firefighters earlier this month, more than 50 people have sent in applications.

The original closing date of May 22 has now been moved to June 26 to give people more time to consider the opportunity.

The fire stations seeking RDS applications are Amersham, Bletchley, Brill, Broughton, Chesham, Great Holm, Great Missenden, Marlow and Stokenchurch.

To find out more call the information pack hotline on 01296 744670 or email rdsrecruitment@bucksfire.gov.uk.

Youngsters get The Point

A NEW drop-in-centre has been opened for young people in the city centre.

Connexions:MK, now in The Point on Midsummer Boulevard, offers information, advice and guidance to young people on issues from careers and education to relationships, money, health, drugs and alcohol.

Mayor of Milton Keynes, Cllr Euan Henderson, unveiled a piece of wall art designed by a young person especially for the new centre at the official opening on Wednesday May 20.

Peter Wong, Connexions:MK manager, said: "In addition to offering a cutting-edge environment for young people, the new Connexions centre is based in the same building as Milton Keynes Youth Service, making it much easier for young people to access help, advice and support in MK."

Broadband black hole

BY JESSICA CUNNIFFE
jessica.cunniffe@mk-news.co.uk

A STUDY commissioned by the BBC suggests Milton Keynes is in a broadband black hole.

The city stands out on a UK map, on which a sample of postcodes' Internet speed have been plotted, as having poor connectivity.

The map, compiled by researchers SamKnows, reveals many places here have speeds below 2Mbps and 512Kbps, even though the Government says all households should get 2Mbps by 2012.

Local campaigners argue that the new city is being held back by its infrastructure.

Surprisingly the more central, built-up areas, such as Shenley Church End, Walnut Tree and Bradwell, are shown to be worst affected.

Milton Keynes Broadband Action Group claims this deters businesses and homebuyers from moving here. Spokesman Adam Chapman says: "We are faced with a unique problem caused by the celebrated grid roads. Because the lines are laid alongside them, he says, they have to travel further into estates and to people's computers, reducing their speed.

"We are told 95 per cent of households can get broadband, but the standard of it, for most applications, isn't good enough.I'd say at least 50 per cent of homes in the city are getting shoddy service.

"Milton Keynes stands out like a sore thumb. It was built as a knowledge centre, high-tech and modern. But would you want to move here or set up a business here if you couldn't get broadband?"

He said the various solutions all require an overhaul of the existing equipment.

MK Council leader Sam Crooks said: "The council is committed to improving MK broadband speeds both for individual users but also for the increasing number of small businesses run from home."

Karen Knox, Patricia Flatt and Julie Satchwell from the Saxon Clinic

Sun-soaked Race for Life

WOMEN across Milton Keynes raised money for charity, and soaked up the sun, when they took part in Race for Life at the weekend.

Thousands of women from MK and the surrounding areas took to Campbell Park to walk, jog and run 5k.

The race was all in the name of charity with sponsorship going to Cancer Research UK's life-saving work.

This year alone Cancer Research UK hope to raise £170,000 and events are taking place across the country.

West Bletchley Carnival

Welcome

Now in it's Eighth year, the West Bletchley Carnival has a great selection for all the family to enjoy.

Saturday 6 June 2009 will mark the Eighth Annual West Bletchley Carnival.

The event is now regarded as one of the main events on the Milton Keynes calendar. For those who are not familiar with Carnival day, a parade of colourful floats, walking entries, bands and professional street entertainers sets off from Melrose Avenue at 1.00pm, making their way to Shenley Road and Rickley Park. Many local groups, community groups and schools take part in the parade. The Council's Publicity & Events Committee have decided to have an "open" theme for 2009, so parade participants can let their imagination run!! In 2009 we expect that a Drum and Pipe band will lead the procession on its way through West Bletchley. Entertainment continues throughout the afternoon, until 6.00pm, at Rickley Park.

In 2008 some 60 local groups and businesses took advantage of the vast numbers who now attend the carnival, taking stalls in the park to promote their organisation, raise funds or sell goods. For 2009, we expect to have the motor cycle display troop from the Royal Artillery and parachute display team from Royal Corps of Signals as our main attractions, as well as the Essex Dogs display team. Some of you may recall a "madman with a piano" at last year's carnival and he will make a welcome return to entertain on the parade route and in Rickley Park. There is a rumour that The Beatles may also make an appearance.

FITNESS CHALLENGE

At the start of the year reporter Rob Gibson decided to join hundreds of people across Milton Keynes and make a resolution to get in shape but, rather than join the gym, a new personal training service challenged him to complete a course of intense one-on-one fitness sessions.
Here is Rob's report card from HealthPro trainer Kriss Tottman

Kriss Tottman marks a cross on the pelvis of Rob Gibson

THE CORRECTIVE PHASE
KRISS: To begin with we took Rob through basic movement patterns such as squats, lunges, lifts, pulls and presses to establish how his body moved and how his posture was affected.

We noticed imbalances within the shoulder girdle and the hip complex. Both areas needed extensive stretching in certain areas and muscle activation techniques in others. We built Rob's proprioception up by working on balance orientated exercises which stimulated the core. This helped us to enable a solid foundation to work with.

After three weeks of corrective exercises we saw a huge change in Rob's posture, both statically and dynamically.

ROB: When my posture was assessed it was a wake-up call that I was heading for back problems later in life. The exercises were really tough and involved some awkward stretches. After just two hours a week the biggest change I noticed was that I was sleeping better than ever.

STRENGTH AND CONDITIONING
KRISS: Starting with muscular endurance based training we kept sets to a minimum and worked to light weights. As muscular endurance improved we entered the strength phase with heavier weights, less reps and more sets. Rob's physical shape was improving for the better and he gained a more athletic physique. We continued the movement patterns but then introduced exercise used in sports strength and conditioning training such as cleans, clean and press, dead lifts, snatches and kettlebell sessions.

ROB: Professional weight lifting techniques are certainly much trickier than they look. There were sessions when I was nearly sick as the combination of swinging heavy kettlebells and exhausting snap jumps got the better of me, but I definitley noticed an improvement in my stamina on the football pitch.

DIET
KRISS: We ran through some tests to determine Rob's metabolic type. We kept him on a mixed carbs and protein diet (45 per cent carbs, 45 per cent protein, 10 per cent fats). This energised him through the day and helped with fat loss massively. This helped his muscles to recover and repair and also physically saw definition improve.

ROB: The new diet hasn't felt like a chore and I've enjoyed trying new fish, fruits and breakfasts. Cutting out the Chinese takeaway and crisps got rid of those lethargic afternoons.

SUMMARY
KRISS: We took Rob from someone with poor posture and an average diet to someone who now has very good diet and has a strong, athletic figure whose posture has improved dramatically.

ROB: I was cynical at first but I honestly noticed the rewards after some seriously tough workouts. The best thing I learned is that there is no subsitute for proper technique.

GARDENLIFE

Be an old sow and sow

SUNNY June has arrived and this usually means we don't have to worry about frost.

Daylight hours are getting longer with the summer solstice and the longest day on 21st there's plenty of time for evening gardening.

Although there are always plenty of jobs to do in June it's also time to start reaping the rewards of our hard work.

Now we can walk into our gardens and start picking the crops that we sowed earlier in the year.

Salad crops should be ready, lettuce, spring onion and radishes as well as summer cabbage and early carrots. (The early thinnings of carrot are wonderful steamed or in salads).

Early peas, beetroot, young turnips and spinach will soon be ready.

Enjoy your successes but don't forget the other work to be done.

It is still important to stay on top of weeds and hoeing them out now is much easier than later in the season when the roots have established. Always use a sharp hoe and remember to hoe on a dry day so that the weeds can't survive.

Remember to monitor the watering and make sure you are thorough, a surface sprinkling is not enough.

Plants grown on from seed like runner and French beans; broccoli and calabrese can be planted outside into their final positions and don't forget to put your tomatoes out now.

It's time to think about planting for the autumn and it is worth sowing several batches a few weeks apart to provide a succession of fresh vegetables. It's the right time to sow beans, peas, beetroot, carrots, turnips, swede and cauliflower.

Slugs and snails are on the warpath so keep them at bay with beer traps and keep an eye out for butterfly eggs on brassicas that will turn into caterpillars and destroy your crop.

Finally it's really important on hot, sunny days (or even dull windy days) to ensure your fruit has enough water whilst the fruit is swelling or you won't get a good crop.

LIZ THURLEY

JOBS FOR JUNE

- Make sure you have water butts installed, including linking kits where possible.
- Keep on top of aphids, either by washing off with a hose or by using an insecticide.
- Spray roses with a fungicide to ward off black spot
- If it gets really hot raise the cutter on the mower
- Feed hanging baskets once a week, you may need to water twice a day!
- Plant out hardy fuchsias

FESTIVALLIFE

THE annual music extravaganza Togfest is back,

One of the area's favourite events takes place on June 26 and 27 set, as ever, against the historic backdrop of Bradwell Abbey.

Celebrating music of every possible genre and actively promoting original sounds, the Togfest team is renowned for showcasing some of the very best sounds around to entertain the expected 2,000 festival goers.

Mixing MK's finest with musicians from all over the UK and beyond has gained the festival a reputation for creating an exciting and innovative programme.

Include the drum and drama workshops, the free children's entertainment, the range of food and festival vendors and you begin to see a picture.

Now add the fact that this festival gem has been run since 1998 as a 'not for profit' event where everyone of the 230 crew involved are unpaid volunteers and you begin to feel the spirit too.

It's still not too late to apply to play one of Togfest's four stages.

With just a few slots not yet finalised there is still time for some late applications from bands and solo performers.

Poetry and other arts are always equally as welcome to add even more flavour to the mix.

Previous line-ups have included bhangra, classical, reggae, dub, blues, soul, rock, indie, folk and much more besides.

Adding additional entertainment on the Friday night at last year's tenth anniversary event took Togfest to a new level. Not only was there was lots more music, but also, lots of festival goers took the opportunity to turn the day out into a weekend away, and completed the festival experience by booking camping tickets too.

Tickets are on offer for Friday and Saturday, weekend and camping and start at £8 if you hurry and buy the discounted 'earlybird' tickets.

Buy on-line at www.togfest.org or from Hobgoblin, Talkin' Headz, Rock Hard Music and Hollywood Music.

Organisers can be contacted on 01908 311557.

MKSPORT THE BEST FOR ALL THE NEWS ON THE DONS

Dons boss in top ten

ROBERTO Di Matteo made it into the top ten managers of the year list.

The MK Dons boss came eighth in the League Managers' Association table.

The Managers' Performance table which was devised to allow managers from every level of League football to test themselves against one another.

Every competitive game counts towards a manager's individual score in the League.

Points were awarded for victories and draws, with results away from home scoring higher.

Points for clean sheets and goals-scored accumulated throughout the season, while a team's winning margin also contributed towards the total.

And with 26 wins and nine draws in Di Matteo's rookie season as a manager, he totalled 100 points – just 27 behind the overall top boss Sir Alex Ferguson.

The Italian finished higher than Darren Ferguson and Nigel Adkins, who guided Peterborough and Scunthorpe to the Championship.

Di Matteo was the second highest League One manager, behind Leicester City's Nigel Pearson.

Lions trials

MK Lions have opened their trials for new players.

The trials form the basis of the selection for the Lions' English Basketball League teams, and their National League Teams.

There are five different categories for the trials.

Milton Keynes College is the venue hosting dates, June 4, 11, 18 and 25, for trails into the EBL four. On separate date they will also hold trials for the under 14s. under 16s and under 18s.

The trials for under 13s will take place at Shenley Brook End on June 11, 18 and 25.

Trialists can pay £5 on the evening, more details can be found at www.mklions.com

GT winner

OLNEY-BASED racing driver Joe Osborne won both races in the British GT event at Rockingham Raceway at the weekend.

The 20-year-old, who is enjoying a fantastic start to the 2009 season, stepped up to the GT3 level for the first time and won both races.

Osborne said: "The weekend just got better and better, to gain pole position after just two laps in qualifying and then to go on and win both races in my first GT3 meeting is fantastic."

To round off a great weekend the young driver was awarded the driver of the day award in recognition of his stunning drive in race two where he took the car from sixth place to first with some well judged overtaking manoeuvres.

Osborne was racing a brand new British built Ginetta G50Z. He is racing a GT4 specification Ginetta G50 in the GT4 European Cup in 2009 and after four podium finishes from four rounds is leading the championship by 14 points.

The GT4 European Cup races take place in five different countries across Europe with German round coming up next on June, 21.

Newport pagnell's opener Trevor Stone hits the ball into the off-side for a boundary

No-win Newport

Morrants Four Counties League DIVISION ONE

NEWPORT Pagnell are stuck at the bottom of the table and still searching for their first win of the season.

Cublington beat Newport Pagnell by four wickets to go level with Milton Keynes City on 96 points.

At Newport Pagnell, the home side went in to bat first, and James Fletcher was in fine form as he totalled 63. Fletcher was the highest scorer as Pagnell finished their innings on 174-7.

Howard Sayers (2-23) and Steve Godfrey (2-18) were the pick of the bowlers for Cublington.

Bill Berton (37) and Adam Goldberg (49) got Cublington off to a steady reply and it was left to Steve George (26no) and Ben Sim (17no) to guide the side to victory with ten balls remaining.

A Wes Hoskins century helped Eaton Bray to a draw with Milton Keynes City.

Hoskins once again led the way with an innings of 105 with the bat as Bray were dismissed for 213.

City's M Shahid played a huge part in removing Bray as he claimed six wickets for 45 runs.

David Loveland top scored for City with 32 and the side managed to bat out the innings to finish on 134-5.

North Crawley beat Elstow by 103 runs to keep up the pressure on top placed New Bradwell.

Crawley set 255-8 with the help of Matt Goss (87) and Glenn Young (34) which was too big a target for Elstow who were all out for 155.

New Bradwell moved 15 points clear at the top following a 142 run win over Old Bradwell.

A brilliant unbeaten 118 from Andrew Overton to send New Bradwell on the way to a massive 275-5. Aside from Jason Loveland's 62 Old Bradwell struggled and were dismissed for 133.

Winslow Town (230-8) drew with Aspley Guise (202-8) to share the spoils.

Cherwell Premier League

BLETCHLEY Town suffered their first defeat of the season with a disappointing performance at Cumnor.

Put into bat Town made a steady start as openers Graham Simpson and James Ward put on 20 in the first five overs. But Ward was bowled, Simpson (54) followed when he fell to a LBW decision and soon Town were struggling at 125-6.

Ed Packard then took the innings to the Cumnor bowlers as he looked to support the lower order, only to depart on 40. Only four more runs were added to the total as Town folded to 149 all out.

Park made their first break through with the ball on the tenth over when Neilson fell on 43 as Mark Roberts found the outside edge with Simpson taking a sharp catch at second slip.

Cumnor's then wobbled with four wickets falling for 32 runs with Sprittles picking up two and Mohammed and Simpson one each with Cumnor reduced to 106-6 but Thompson's 32 not out gave them a four wicket win.

Northants Premier League

STONY Stratford came within one wicket of completing a memorable win over Northants Academy, instead they were held to a draw.

Stony were put into bat which looked to be an inspired decision by Northants as Dion Ebrahim was bowled for a golden duck, and Stony struggled to 111-4 from 25 overs.

Graeme Carter produced a fine innings of 86, with Nick Allen (36) and Michael Avery (44no) making decent contributions to Stony's final total, 254 all out.

In response Northants stormed to 98-1 and it looked like the game was falling away from Stony, but in no time Stony reduced them to 102-4.

Northants needed 25 to win with one wicket left, yet the sides had to settle for the draw.

BMX Summer Season hits town

THE dirt tracks in Milton Keynes are about to get a lot busier as the regional BMX Summer Series comes to town.

MK will host round five of the competition having already staged the second round last month.

The top rider from the East Anglian regions will attend the meeting at Milton Keynes BMX racing track at Pineham.

Last year the same event attracted 297 riders, and this time they are hoping to top the 400 mark.

Competing in the series is MK's own Izzy Ferrada, a current national BMX racing champion for girls aged 10-12.

Ferrada, 13, won the East Anglia winter series of Formula 3 races, and recently won national series rounds in Derby and Burham on Sea. She currently lies third in the national rankings.

The meeting, on Sunday, June 14, will also include a novice race open to all.

Entry Fee is £5 and entrants need a safe bike, helmet, gloves and full length clothing.

Pearce in call for crowd to back his Under-21s

ENGLAND Under-21 manager Stuart Pearce has called on the local community to back his side ahead of their UEFA European Championships.

Pearce's Young Lions are heading to Milton Keynes on Monday to play a friendly against Azerbaijan as the final match before flying to Sweden for the tournament.

The game is just one week before England's Euro campaign kicks off against Finland.

Pearce named a strong 23-man squad with the hope that they can return home with silverware.

Full to the brim with talent, the squad includes several regular Premier League stars including Arsenal's Theo Walcott, Aston Villa's Gabriel Agbonlahor and James Milner.

Monday night will be the second time the country's Under-21s have graced MK Dons' stadiummk pitch.

In 2008 they emerged 2-0 winners over Bulgaria, and Pearce has fond memories of the visit.

He said: "We enjoyed our trip to Milton Keynes and the club look after us fantastically well.

"The chairman supports us and we've sold out the stadium in the past so hopefully the local community will come out and watch us in action again.

"We really appreciate the support we get from around the country and the majority of our games are sell-outs which is just fantastic."

The former England and Nottingham Forest defender has insisted his side must play like the fixture is part of the Euros and should not expect Azerbaijan to simply roll over.

He added: "It might be a friendly match but whenever you take the field wearing an England shirt it's vital that you give 100 per cent and try to win the game."

And Pearce, who also acts as an assistant to England's senior manager Fabio Capello, also had a comforting word for all MK Dons fans.

He kept his eye on proceedings across all football leagues and noted the Dons' heartbreaking play-off defeat, but he believes the club has the right infrastructure to be heading in a positive direction.

Pearce said: "MK Dons had a decent season and were unfortunate to fall in the play-offs so it's important to see that as a year of progression, build on it and keep heading upwards.

"It's a good stadium and has been built for the Premier League which is a great credit to the chairman and everyone associated with the club."

FORMULA One has breathed a sigh of relief at the news that all the teams have applied to compete again next season.

The motor sport world was in serious danger when big name teams threatened to quit in a row over budgets.

Milton Keynes-based Red Bull Racing were one of nine teams who stated they would no longer compete if a voluntary £40million budget cap, which would come with greater technical freedom, came into effect.

Williams, the only team not to be represented by Fota, submitted their entry at the early part of last week.

But Red Bull, Toro Rosso, McLaren, BMW Sauber, Force India, Toyota, Ferrari, Renault and Brawn GP all waited until deadline day last Friday to submit their conditional entries.

While they may have all stated their interest in taking part next year there still appears to be a long way to go before the dispute is closed as Fota continues to negotiate with FIA, and president Max Moseley, about the rules for 2010.

Formula One bosses are hoping to have 13 teams competing, three more than currently, and will announce the definitive line up on June 14.

A FOTA statement read: "FOTA confirms all its members' long-term commitment to be involved in the FIA Formula One World Championship and has unanimously agreed further and significant actions to substantially reduce the costs of competing in the championship in the next three years, creating a mechanism that will preserve the technological competition and the sporting challenge and, at the same time, facilitate the entry in the F1 championship for new teams."

The statement added: "All FOTA teams now look forward with optimism to collaborating pro actively and productively with the FIA."

It is timely news ahead of the Turkish Grand Prix this weekend.

The sport has been attracting attention for all the good reasons due to the surprise success of Brawn GP and Red Bull, who are first and second in the constructor's championship.

Red Bull drivers Sebastian Vettel and Mark Webber will be hoping to have more luck than they did on their last drive, out in the streets of Monaco when Vettel crashed, but Webber climbed into fifth place.

The race takes place on Sunday at 1pm.

Dons sans Miguel

SPANISH defender Miguel Angel Llera has left MK Dons.

Llera was unable to reach an agreement with the club over a new contract and has now departed as a free agent.

The 29-year-old spent just one season at stadiummk after joining from Hercules Alicante in September 2008.

Roberto Di Matteo signed him from the Spanish second division side and he went on to make 36 appearances, scoring twice in the process.

He established himself as a key player in the team alongside defensive partner Sean O'Hanlon.

And Llera appears to have made an impact in English football with Charlton Athletic and Norwich City, both recently demoted to League One, strongly linked to the centre back.

A statement on the official MK Dons website read: "The club would like to place on record its thanks to Miguel for his contribution during his season with us and wish him the best of luck with his future career."

The Dons are still undergoing contract negotiations with Mark Wright, Carl Regan and Danny Swailes.

MK NEWS understands Swailes has been offered a six-month deal after playing just one game for the Dons last season.

Swailes, 30, endured an nightmare year with an Achilles injury ruling him out from the majority of the season.

The defender did return to full training late in the campaign, and just missed out on a shock return in the play-off semi-final second-leg.

With Llera's exit an agreement with Swailes would be a timely boost for the Dons.
